

On Saturday May8th at 15.30, World Ovarian Cancer Day, Acto - Alliance against Ovarian Cancer (Italy) launched a Facebook live streaming to raise awareness on clinical trials among patient, caregivers and the general public.

The talk is based on the key results of “Research InActo” study, a multicentre, prospective survey about women’s knowledge, attitudes and experience of randomized controlled trials promoted by Acto and conducted by one of the leading research institute in Italy the Istituto di Ricerche Mario Negri. It was performed in 25 research Hospitals in 12 Italian regions with the participation of 359 patients.

Key speakers were Paola Mosconi, Anna Roberto and Elena Biagioli from Mario Negri, Prof. Nicoletta Colombo of the European Oncology Institute and Prof. Domenica Lorusso of the Policlinico Gemelli Foundation.

Acto Sicilia event: “Woman beyond .. cancer” video-project

On May 7th at 11.30, on the occasion of the World Ovarian Cancer Day, Acto Sicilia presented at the Cannizzaro Hospital in Catania, its video story “Woman beyond ... cancer” based on an idea of the gynaecological oncologist G. Scandurra and of the psycho-oncologist S. La Spina. Three videos tell the story of patients facing diagnosis and treatment of ovarian cancer in three different settings: “Me, every day”, “The event” where patients are the main characters in everyday life and on special occasions, and “Me and him” which focuses on partners of ovarian cancer patients and on the problems affecting the relationship. The event was broadcasted on a Facebook live event on the Association’s page <https://www.facebook.com/ACTO-Sicilia-108886567906420>
